

Seas and Coasts

Today we will be...

Locating and identifying oceans and continents.

Next

What is an ocean?

What is a continent?

Think, pair, share.

Back

Next

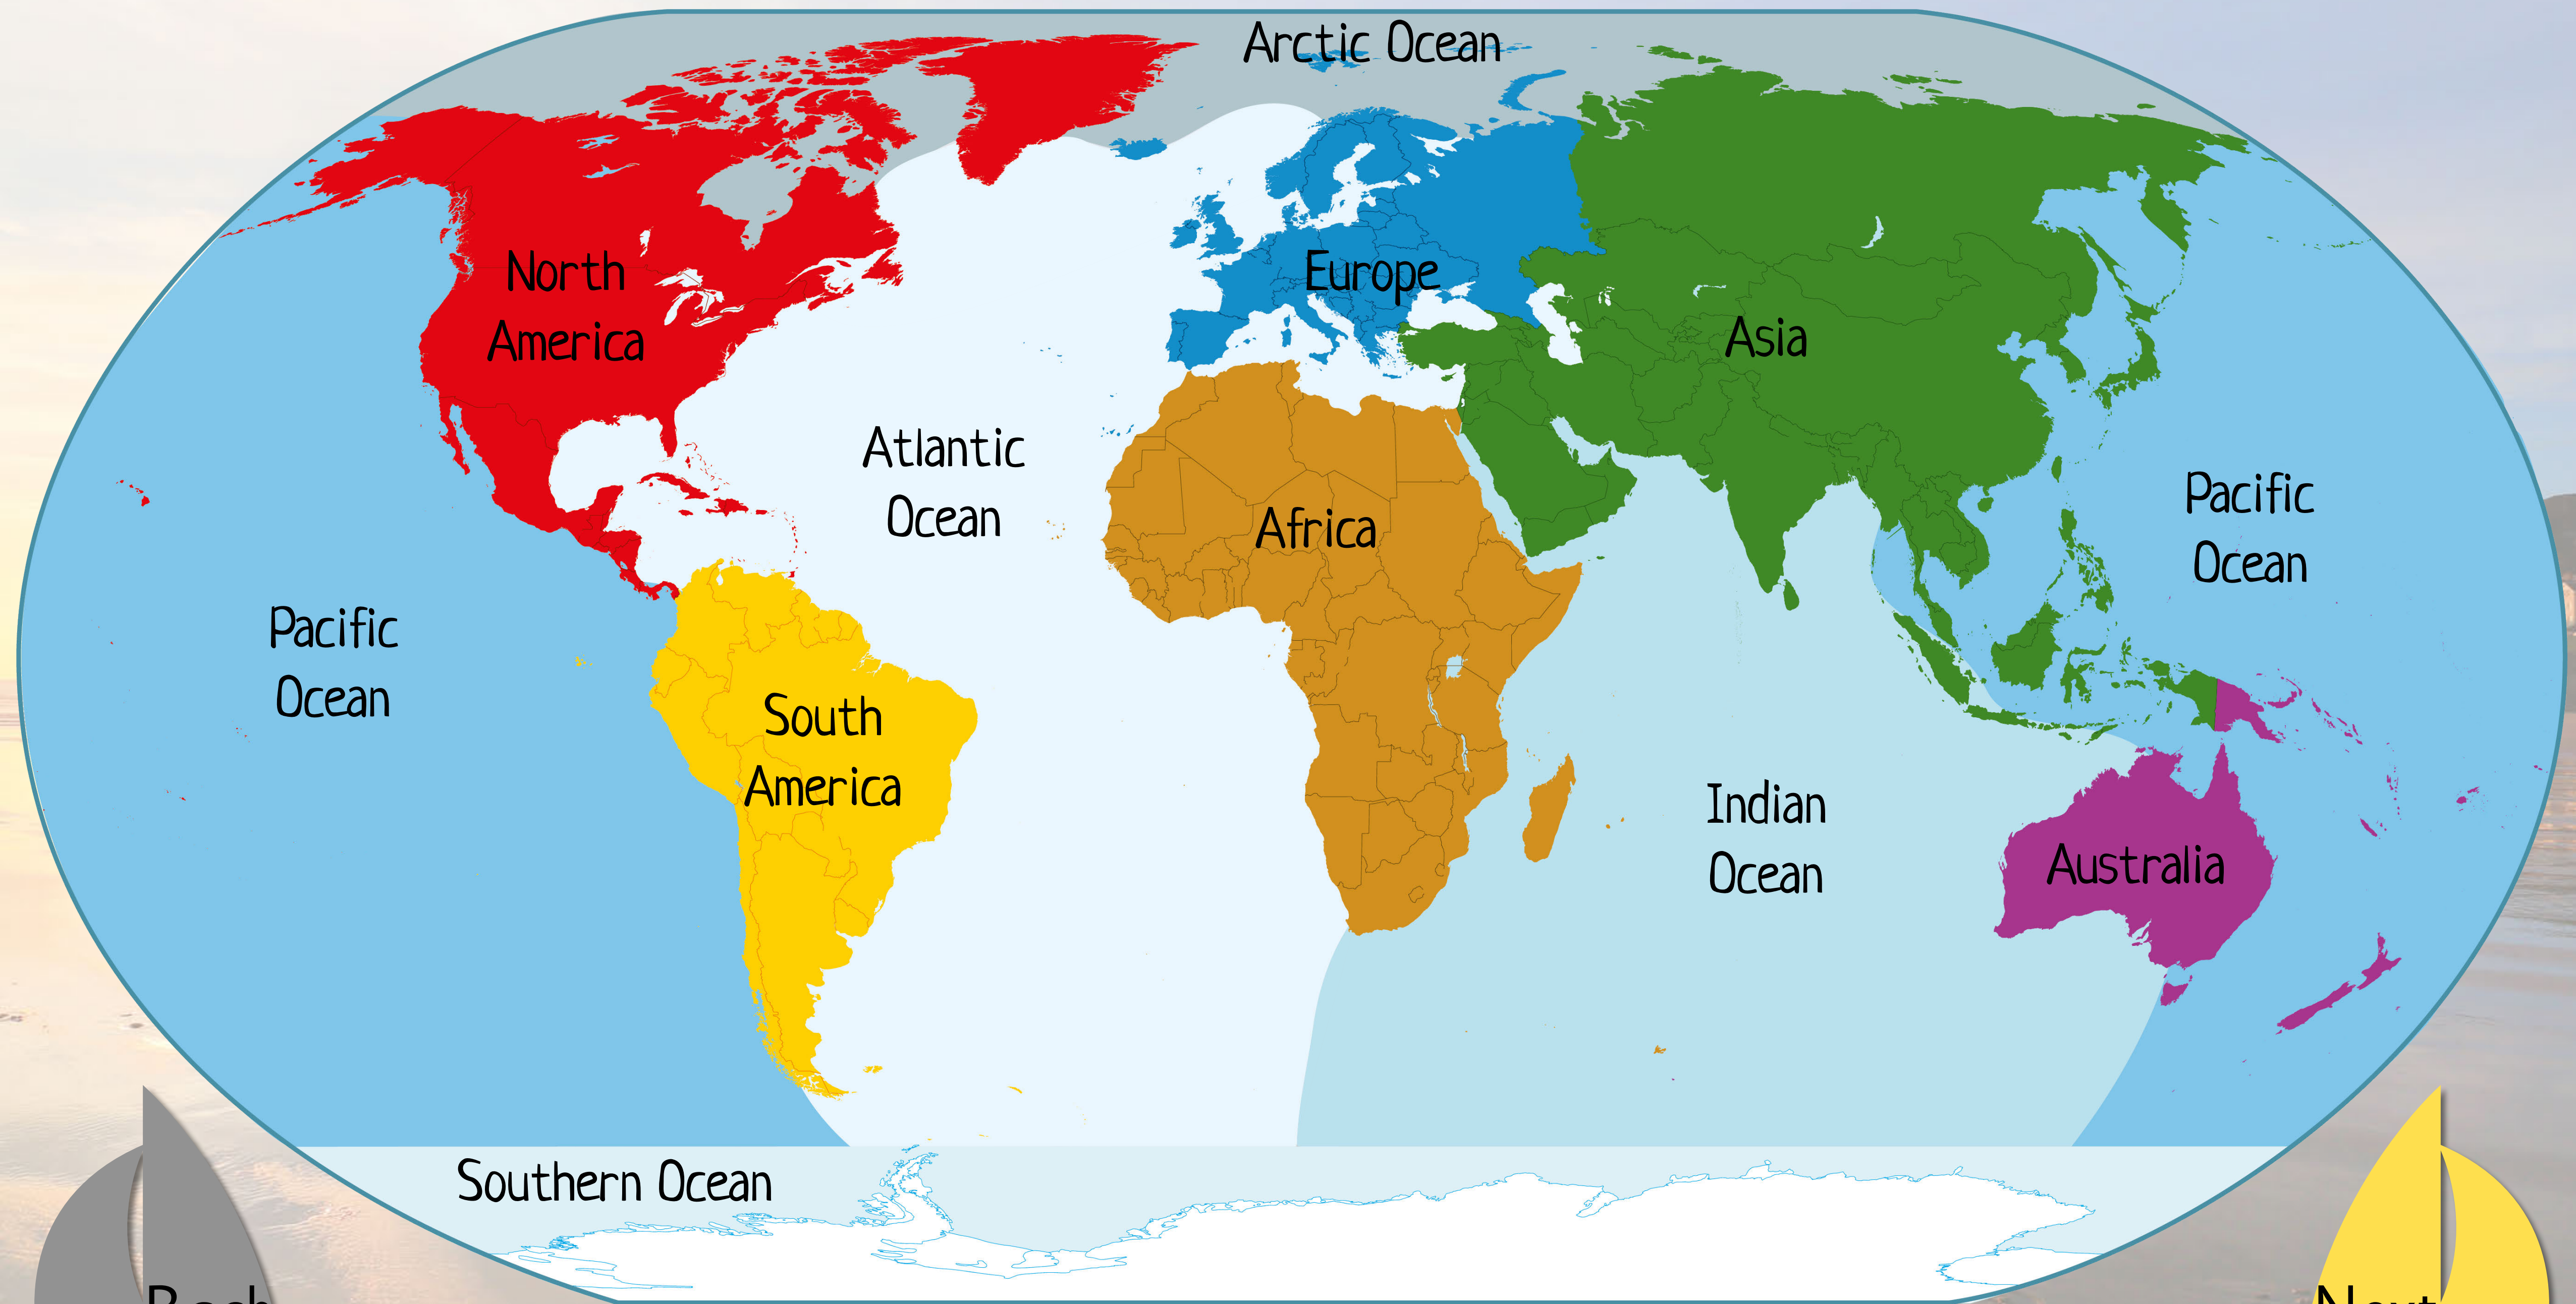

An ocean is a very large sea. There are five oceans on our planet. Continents are large areas of land. The countries on Earth are grouped into seven continents. See how many oceans and continents you can name, then press the next button and find them on the map.

Back

Next

Back

Next

Did you find the five oceans and seven continents?

Back

Next

What is a sea?

What is a country?

What is a coast?

Think, pair, share.

Back

Next

Seas are areas of salty water.
They are smaller than oceans.
Countries are areas of land. They are smaller than continents.
Coasts are the bits of land that meet a sea or an ocean. What countries or seas can you name?

Think, pair, share.

Back

Next

This is a map of Great Britain and Ireland. Can you find England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Ireland?

Back

How many seas and oceans can you find? What are they called?

Next

Did you find all the countries?
Can you find the capital cities of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland?

Back

The English Channel is a narrow bit of the Atlantic Ocean that separates Britain from France.

Next

A cartoon illustration of a young boy with brown hair, wearing green goggles and a blue snorkel. He is shirtless and wearing red shorts and green socks. He is standing on a beach with a sunset in the background. A speech bubble points to him from the text above.

Have you ever visited an ocean, a sea or a coast?

Think, pair, share.

Now listen to the characters' holidays. Did they do similar things to you?

A simple grey sailboat icon with a single sail.

Back

A simple yellow sailboat icon with a single sail.

Next

I went on holiday to Blackpool in Lancashire, England. Blackpool is north of Liverpool. I got the train to Blackpool with my family.

Back

Next

I ate an ice-cream as we walked along the promenades and piers. I loved paddling in the sea and visiting the rides at the funfair.

Back

Next

For lunch we sat
on the sand and
ate chips while we watched people ride donkeys. I had a lot of fun in Blackpool!

Back

Next

I went on holiday to Malaga in Spain. Malaga is in the South of Spain. I flew to Malaga with my family.

Malaga

Alboran Sea

Back

Next

I ate lots of ice cream and fresh fruit while sitting by the water.
We bought the fruit from the market. In Spanish ice cream is called helado and fruit is called fruta.

Back

Next

We played in the sea a lot. I loved trying to jump over the waves. The sea was lovely and warm. We also visited the marina and looked at all the boats.

Back

Next

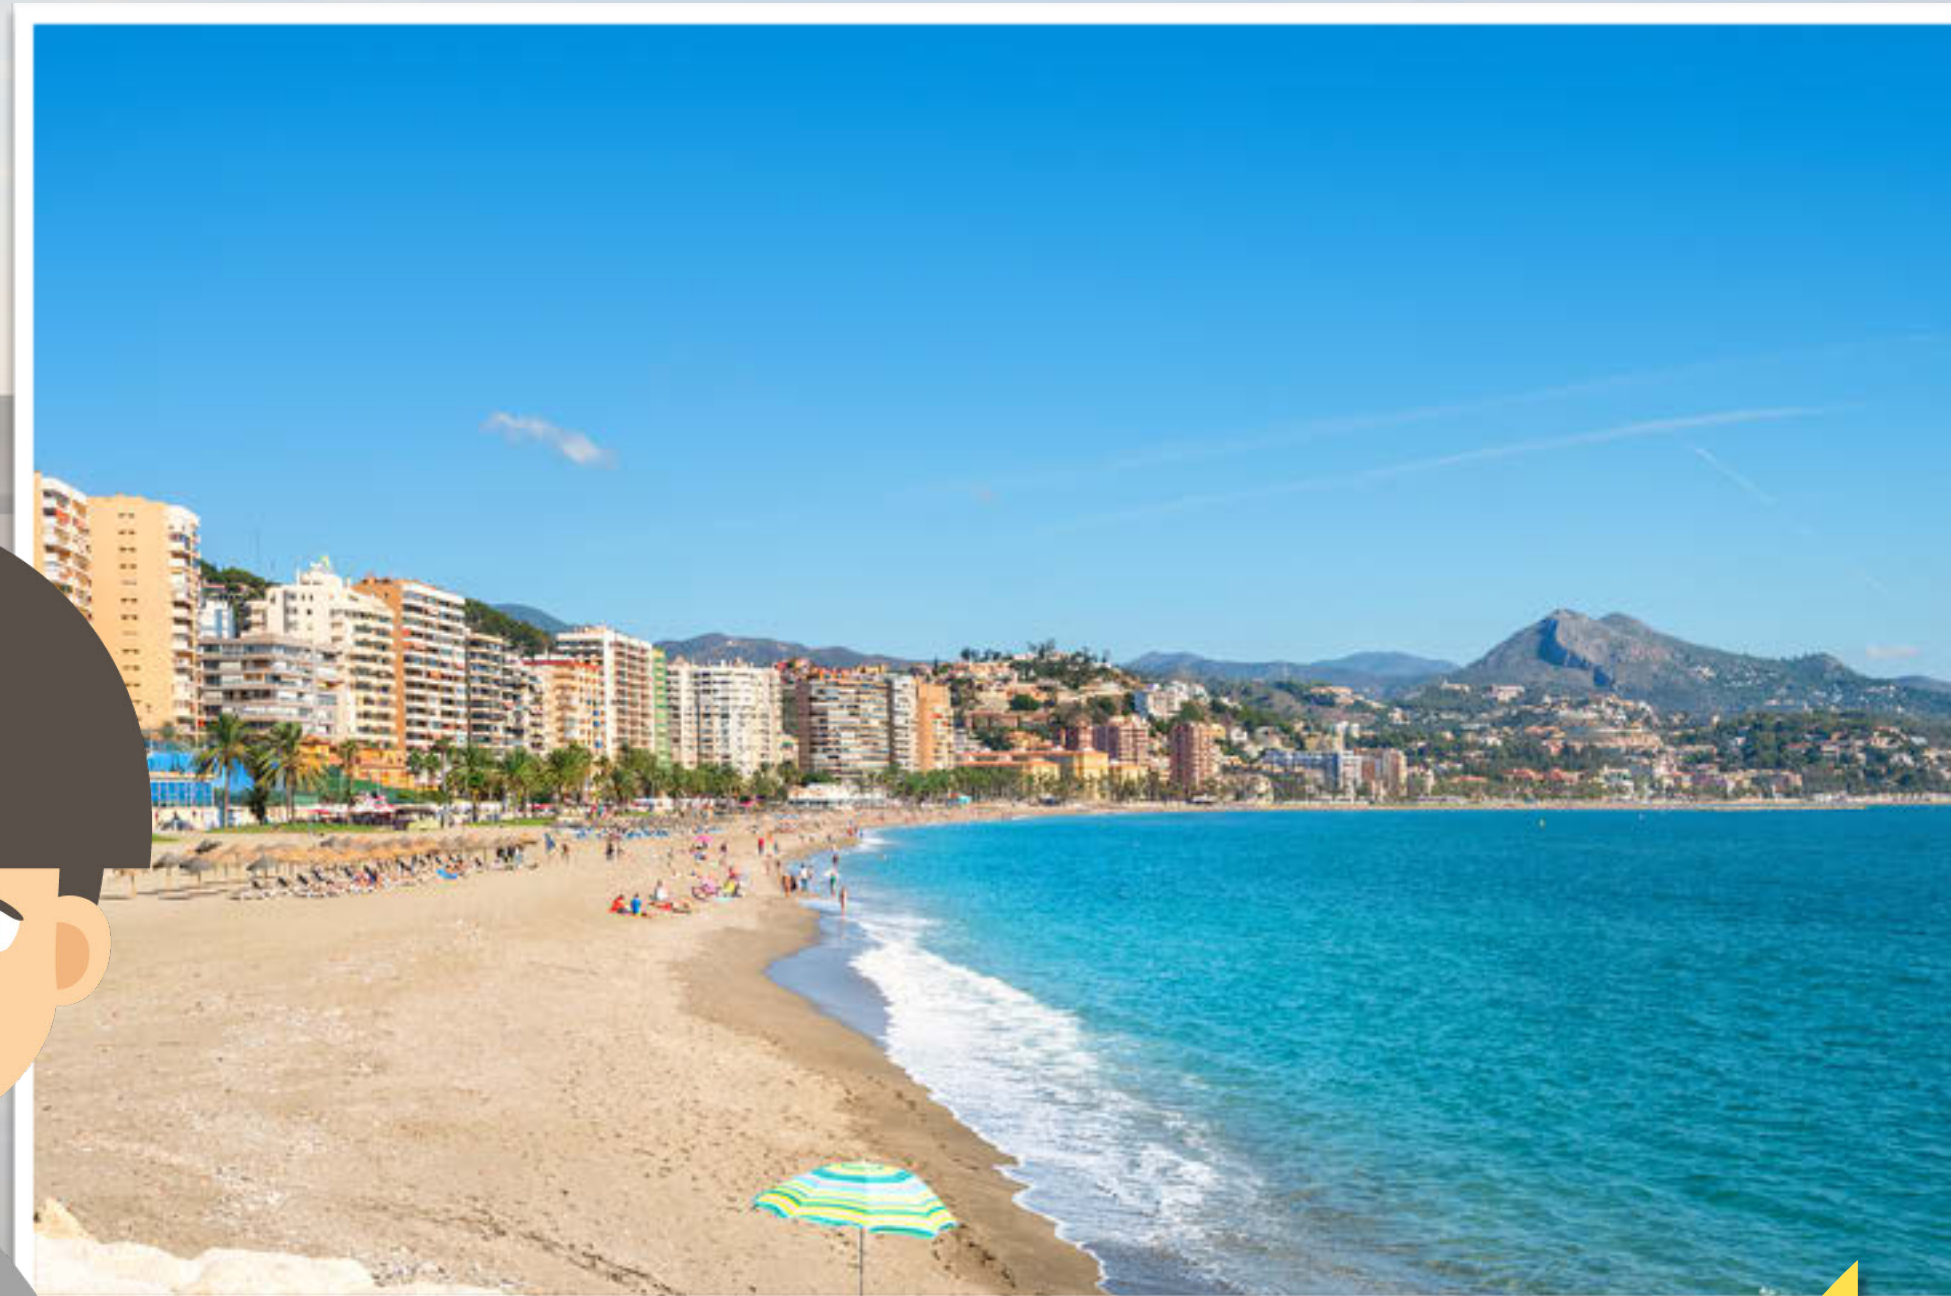

What did you do that was the same as us when you visited the sea? What did you do that was different?

Think, pair, share.

Blackpool, England

Malaga, Spain

Look at the pictures of these two oceans. What is the same and what is different?

Think, pair, share.

Indian Ocean

Arctic Ocean

